Hello!

Bill from www.auraladventures.com asked me to send you a CD. I hope you enjoy it as much as we had fun making it! I love the name of the street you are on, so appropriate ☺.

May you succeed at all you dream.

Bio - Jenny Moon

"Generation Y is more optimistic and more action-oriented than Gen X."

R&R, July 7, 2000

Meet 18 year-old Jenny Moon, the voice of a new generation. While no one is exactly sure what shape Gen Y will take musically, it is clear that it is already digging Pop and Latin music. Jenny Moon (nee Rodriguez) is half Puerto Rican. While she carries her Latin influences deep in her soul, she wears her love of Pop on her sleeve.

Unlike the Pop groups of her high school years, however, Jenny favors serious lyrical content to undergird her infectious radio-ready melodies. That is why we suggest that the tag line for Generation Y may be "seriously happy."

As the lyrics in the enclosed CD attest, Jenny is a young lady serious about life, health, wellness, spirituality and the crises that often occur in teen years. All You Will Need is about the personal liberation that comes with letting yourself be loved. Race Against Time tells a story about a friend with AIDS and invites the listener to live life to the fullest. Take Us is a song about female sexual fantasy. Shining Seas tells the story of a clairvoyant woman and the dolphins with whom she communicates. Life Goes On is about teenage suicide and Tears of Emily concerns teen pregnancy.

As you can see, Jenny is no lightweight. Though only 18 years old, she has received tons of recognition for her singing. She received a top rating for her solo work in both District and State voice competitions. She has performed in three musicals already, and has been chosen for a wide variety of choirs: Show Choir, Concert Choir (Mixed), Madrigals, Women's Choir, Children's Choir and State Choir.

Even though she is a young talent, she is ready for the big leagues because she has superior management through Minardi Talent Development.

We hope you will enjoy the pure pop vision of Jenny Moon!!
